FERRY SERVICE CLARIFIED

—By Minister

After many months of confusion, the transportation picture of the Gulf Islands clarified somewhat this week with the announcement by Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, minister of highways, that subsidized ferry services now embracing Salt Spring Island, Pender Island and Swartz Bay will be extended to include Galiano, Mayne and Saturna Islands. The new schedule will be operative "immediately".

Mr. Gagliardi stated that the existing Fulford-Swartz Bay daily service and the Vesuvius-Crofton service will be continued by Gulf Islands Ferry Co. In addition the company will call once every Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday at Galiano, Mayne and Saturna. This arrangement will be effective until July 1, the company receiving $24,000 a year for the Fulford-Swartz Bay service, $12,000 a year for the Vesuvius-Crofton service and $1,000 per month for supplying service to the Penders, Mayne, Saturna and Galiano.

To the Review this week, O. H. New, head of Coast Ferries, Ltd., which supplies a frequent service to the Islands from Steveston, stated that he has not yet worked out his new schedule for the Lady Rose. He said, however, that Sidney and South Pender will be dropped from the service and less frequent trips made to Saturna and Hope Bay.

Islands Ratepayers To Vote on New Hospital

Approximately 1,200 landowners in the Gulf Islands money by-law for the construction of a new hospital to are expected to go to the polls December 8 to vote on a serve the islands.

The new building, to replace the present Lady Minto Hospital at Ganges, Salt Spring Island, is planned as a modern concrete structure, providing 24 adult and children beds, with six bassinets. Latest facilities for surgical and medical care have been incorporated, with separate space for maternity cases.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $272,485. The provincial and federal governments will, together, pay two-thirds of the actual construction costs, and the provincial government will pay one-third of the cost of equipment and furnishings.

The new hospital, if approved by the passing of the money by-law, will be erected on a site near Ganges Harbour on Salt Spring. There will be a separate staff residence, which will be of frame and stucco construction.

TWO MILLS
The district's share of the cost is to be financed through a loan from the provincial government, over a 20-year period. The actual cost to the individual landowner is now estimated at two mills or under. Maurice Atkins, of Ganges, will conduct the plebiscite as government agent.

OVER BROAD AREA

Parking Restrictions Approved in Sidney

Two-hour parking is planned for Sidney. On Monday evening commissioners approved a modified parking by-law which will cover a broad area of the business section of the village. The new by-law will restrict parking to a maximum of two hours on Beacon Ave., between Second St. and Fifth St. and on Third St. and Fourth St., for one block each side of Beacon, during business hours.

The by-law was approved following a report from Commissioner S. G. Watling that his committee had met with representatives from the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce and the R.C.M.P. The reduced area now contemplated was considered adequate to meet the needs of the situation, he reported. The by-law in its original form envisaged the restriction throughout the business section of the community.

SPECIAL MEETING

Final approval was planned for Wednesday at a special meeting of the commission. Implementation of the new regulations will be delayed until signs are available. This delay will probably be about three weeks, stated Village Clerk A. W. Sharp.

Commissioner Watling stated, "I should like to point out to the newspaper that the by-law can be changed in 48 hours. We are not trying to force parking on to the people of Sidney."

Both Commissioners C. J. Douma and R. C. Martman supported the new by-law, commenting that it "good idea."

"If we don't do something now, it can go on until next year," commented Chairman Herbert Bradley.

Players All Set For Children's Theatre

Peninsula Players are keyed up for the new entry of the North Saanich Dramatic Society into the realm of children's theatre. The preparations for Hansel and Gretel are well under way. It will be presented at the end of the month.

The novel play will be characterized by local talent, when scores offered will be the composition of Mrs. Jack Ritchell, of Swartz Bay. Sponsors of the play have ruled that season tickets will not be valid for this extra presentation.

November Cold and Very Wet

Weather for November was characterized by below average temperatures and above average precipitation and sunshine. Record low temperatures occurred from the 12th to the 16th, reports the meteorological office of the Dominion Experimental Station at Saanichton.

The monthly mean temperature was only 36.9 degrees as compared to the 42-year average of 43.1 degrees; a difference of 6.2 degrees below normal. The mean maximum of 42.1 degrees was 5.5 degrees below and the mean minimum of 31.6 degrees was 7 degrees below the long-term average. The high temperature of 59 degrees was recorded on the 9th and the low temperature of 10.5 degrees was recorded on the 15th. The 10.5 degrees was the lowest temperature ever recorded in November and was only 2.5 degrees above the all time low temperature of 8.0 degrees recorded on January 14, 1950.

The previous low temperature for November was 25.0 degrees, recorded on the 22nd, 1921. The low temperature was the fourth lowest temperature ever recorded. Previous lows were: 8.0 degrees recorded on January 14, 1950 and 10.0 degrees recorded on January 21, 1943, and February 7, 1936.

Total precipitation was 5.58 inches compared to the 42-year average of 4.32 inches. This is more than double the normal precipitation. There was 0.03 inches of rain and 0.5 inches of snow. The heaviest snowfall was recorded on the 3rd when 3.24 inches fell. There were 19 days with precipitation.

Clean-up at Dump Planned by Sidney Commission

New Sidney garbage dump is to be cleaned up. On Monday evening Sidney village commissioners heard a report from the Saanich and South Vancouver Island Health Unit regarding the dump. Sanitary Inspector H. G. H. Watts recommended a number of improvements to the present system.

A stout wire fence is to be erected around the dump and entry will be restricted by the use of barbed wire. Cost will be $350.

Mr. Watts also reviewed the history of the discontinued garbage dump on First St. He stated that complaints had been first received in 1946, eight years after it was opened. His department had inspected the dump and had then reported that it was poorly located, being too central; an eyesore, a breeding place for rats and flies and that the prevailing wind carried unpleasant odors to the village.

New sites then considered were the Shade gravel pit, the Humber slough and the gravel pit on the Indian reserve. The Humber property had been considered the most satisfactory, but the estate had not wished to sell. Nothing further was done to find a new site until the time of village incorporation, continued the report.

Certain rules were drawn up at that time by the Sidney Chamber of Commerce and approval had been sought from the health officer. This was refused on the grounds that the dump did not meet with the requirements of the department of health. The chamber was given authority to continue to operate the dump although it failed.

EXTENSION

George L. Baal was granted extension for one month of the order previously issued by Sidney village commission that he remove a hut off the lane at the rear of Bewley's Drug Store. The extension was approved by the commission on Monday evening.

ed to conform to requirements. Mr. Watts added that as the property was originally purchased by the provincial government this might have been considered a "tacit approval".

First White Native of Pender Dies

She is survived by two sons, Gordon and Robert Hamilton, both of Esquimalt; one daughter (Evelyn) Mrs. Wm. Mendres of Winnipeg; two grandsons; three brothers, N. N. Grimmer, Percy H., and George W.; one sister, Mrs. Olive Clague, all of Pender Island.

Services were read by Rev. J. A. Roberts of Esquimalt, and pallbearers were three brothers, two sons, and Victor Menzies, long family friend. Interment was in the family plot, Pender Island Cemetery.

DONEY REVIEWS YEAR

Saanich Fair Is Within Sight of Recognition

Saanich fair is well on the way to gaining recognition as a Class B fair. Albert Doney, president of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, made this announcement at the annual meeting of the society last week.

In the course of his report of the fair and the year's activities Mr. Doney noted that the requirements for reclassification had all been met and only one year would now be required to gain the senior status. Mr. Doney observed that the financial position of the society was satisfactory, particularly in view of the many improvements provided. These were in a material sense and also in relation to the bringing up to date of the prize awards, he said.

The president expressed gratitude to all directors, committees and officers for their co-operation.

S. G. Stoddart presented the treasurer's report in the form of a detailed financial statement. This was accepted by the meeting.

RETURN AWARDS

Mr. Stoddart reported that two of the most prominent exhibitors had donated their awards to the funds of the society. This represented a considerable amount, he added. The treasurer also stated that the Saanich Pioneer Society had donated $5 towards the well location project.

Two matters of expansion were brought before the meeting, P. H.

Staverman, Langford, veteran exhibitor, recommended that the poultry building be renovated for the next fair. He stressed the necessity of encouraging by every means available an increase in poultry showing.

Members of the rabbit committee advanced several suggestions put forward in the light of the greatly increased popularity of the section during the year.

Both recommendations were referred to the board of management for consideration.

Revision of the prize list sections will take place early in the new year. Date of the 1956 fair was announced by President Doney. The fair will be held on Saturday, Sept. 1 and Monday, Labor Day, Sept. 3.

HUDSON'S BAY RECORD SOCIETY INDEBTED TO LOCAL HISTORIAN

Newest publication of the Hudson's Bay Record Society is of particular interest to British Columbians for it deals of the journal of Samuel Black, penetrating for the first time the Cassiar country, a century and a quarter ago. The introduction to the volume is written by R. M. Patterson, of Shoal Harbor, already a notable explorer and writer as he follows in the footsteps of the pioneer of whom he writes.

The publication of the journals themselves is not a major task. The preparation of the informed introduction was obviously no mean task, while the annotation of the journals represents many hours of laborious research.

SIDNEY'S ELECTION

TOMORROW, Thursday, Dec. 8, voters of the Village of Sidney will go to the polls and select two commissioners to serve them during the next two years. Six candidates—one lady and five gentlemen—are contesting the election.

The candidates have divided themselves roughly into two camps. The two retiring commissioners, C. J. Douma and R. C. Martman, are standing on their record. Unfortunately for them their record includes the adoption on Monday evening of this week, right on the eve of an election, of an iniquitous parking by-law which many people have strongly opposed. Opponents of the plan contend that the by-law will strangle Sidney's commercial development and with this view The Review agrees entirely. The only right and proper place for the parking by-law was the municipal wastepaper basket. Unless we are very mistaken, the electorate will show its contempt for the needless and senseless by-law at the polls on Thursday. The candidates who supported it may have committed political suicide on Monday evening.

The other camp embraces three candidates, Mrs. Vivian Cowan, Joe Bilgeri and Frank Hunt, who oppose the blanket parking restriction by-law. They further state that the present method of refuse disposal leaves much to be desired.

Two of the candidates, Messrs. Bilgeri and Hunt, have voiced their opposition to remuneration being paid to commissioners. The 1955 commission agreed unanimously to pay $25 per month to each member. One candidate, Mr. Bilgeri, has gone a stage further. If elected, he says, he will refuse to accept any payment until Sidney is a model village. He is the only one to state publicly that he will refuse the monthly cheque.

The remaining candidate, L. R. Christian, has not disclosed his platform.

So there you are. These are the candidates and, for the most part, their views. Let us hope that a very high percentage of the electors will go to the polls tomorrow and select two commissioners who will work loyally to build Sidney into a better village during the next two years.

THE HOSPITAL VOTE

PROPERTY owners of Hospital Improvement District No. 9 will go to the polls tomorrow to settle the fate of the proposed new Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital. A very important and far-reaching decision lies in their hands.

The issue is a clear-cut one. Everyone agrees that the existing, dilapidated structure has outworn its usefulness. Hence a new, modern hospital is sorely needed. The main objection on the part of some residents, however, is that the new hospital will cost cold, hard cash over a 20-year period in addition to the contributions of senior governments. This fact is true. Nevertheless everything that's worthwhile in this life seems to cost money. And the new hospital will be no exception.

A vote for the hospital is a vote for the future of the entire Gulf Islands area. A vote against the hospital is a ballot in favor of standing still. No community can stand still. It either advances or deteriorates.

The Review, long intimately associated with the development of the Gulf Islands, hopes that tomorrow's vote will open the door to construction of the long-overdue new hospital.

RATEPAYERS WILL DECIDE

ON Saturday ratepayers of Central Saanich will be invited to vote on two matters of municipal administration. The first is a referendum to decide whether or not new road construction shall be paid for out of general revenue or from local improvement schemes.

There are features in favor of both schemes. The local improvement scheme offers a more equitable responsibility for the cost of new roads, but proponents of the payment out of general revenue quite truthfully point out that such a plan offers greater opportunity for expansion of the municipality. A highly contentious issue for a number of years, this question will be finally settled on Saturday.

The second referendum will deal with library services. This is a considerably less controversial issue. Several years ago ratepayers approved the introduction of library services and also of the bookmobile, which brings books into the municipality. Since that time there has been a keen patronage of this service by residents of all ages, from schoolchildren to old-age pensioners. This popularity of the service is, basically, its justification.

The cost has risen beyond the point first visualized, when the scheme was introduced. Even so, we cannot feel that it is out of all proportion to the service offered. It has been suggested that the children participating in the service are taking books which they do not read. That this is sometimes done is undeniable. Nevertheless, as far as children are concerned, library service is a very important consideration. The child who has books at his disposal will be predisposed towards reading. The child who does not enjoy this facility may never learn to read, in which case his education will be curtailed.

The question facing the ratepayers is not simply whether the cost is justified by the service, but whether the pleasure derived by the very young and the very old, who are restricted from visiting the library in Victoria, is to be considered an unnecessary expenditure.

We cannot but feel that abandonment of the scheme would be a retrogressive step.

Letters To The Editor

POOR ECONOMY
Editor, Review,
Sir,
I would appreciate space to express an opinion on the library referendum to be held in Central Saanich on December 10. I would like to make it clear that the following views are not necessarily those of any other member of Central Saanich council.

Meditation
Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

Reflections From the Past

10 YEARS AGO

After major problems in the supply of the necessary machinery have finally been overcome, the new cold storage lockers built at Keating by Ken Stanlake and J. J. Young will be opened next week.

Amusement parlor has been opened in Sidney. Situated in the former Sidney post office, the gallery is operated by Jack Gort, a veteran of the army, who served in an anti-tank unit.

A beautiful 80-foot wide road to connect East and West Saanich Roads at Lands End has been gazetted to commence early in the spring.

20 YEARS AGO

It has been announced that work will commence shortly on the new floats at the Beacon Ave. wharf.

through age or other reasons, seldom get into Victoria, and there are a considerable number of them. Many children will drift back to a literary diet consisting solely of comic books. It has been stated that the children do not read the books that they take out. A survey was made by a teacher in Central Saanich schools for the library, and it was found that the children read over 85 per cent of the books borrowed. This is a very high percentage, higher even than libraries expect from adult borrowers. If voters hear similar statements, they would be well advised to ask for evidence before taking them too seriously.

30 YEARS AGO

Heavy fog at the end of last week resulted in a number of minor accidents. Mr. and Mrs. W. Shepard of Sidney left for Fulford on Thursday morning from Sidney. They rowed for several hours and found themselves in Roberts Bay. After several more hours they found themselves still in the bay. The journey to Isabella Point ultimately took them more than eight hours.

fare of Central Saanich, having given a great deal of time and energy with this object during the past 13 years and the rumblings of any appointed or elected official will not deter me from publicly and fearlessly expressing my views on municipal or other affairs, particularly as I am not seeking any office, paid or unpaid, either by appointment or election.

In regard to subdivisions, all sewer and drainage services are usually paid for through a local improvement loan, by the property owners concerned and therefore do not become a general tax on the municipality, and all other municipal taxes are paid for in their general tax. Mr. Leighton's statement on this point is most misleading.

I repeat that we can get copies of good zoning by-laws from other municipalities to assist us in drafting our own, and that we do not need "experts" at either $200 or $2,000 a year.

The ratepayers of Central Saanich should attend the next council meeting, to be held on Tuesday next, and endeavor to prevent this zoning by-law being adopted in its present form. It should not be pushed through by a dying council at its last meeting. Final adoption should be dealt with by the incoming 1956 council.

ZONING BY-LAW

Editor, Review,
Sir,
The bitter personal tenor of Mr. Leighton's letter attacking me, on the question of undesirable paragraphs in the proposed zoning by-law for Central Saanich, comes as no surprise after seeing this gentleman in action when he was chairman of a very poorly attended recent public meeting to discuss this proposed zoning by-law. He became extremely irate when, as an ordinary ratepayer, I had the temerity to exercise my democratic rights and constructively criticize certain parts of this proposed zoning by-law.

Before writing my letter, of which he complains, I sought advice from a solicitor who is highly qualified on municipal matters.

In spite of Mr. Leighton's assertion that I made untrue statements, the facts are as I stated them in my letter.

There are dangerous and too far reaching provisions which could be used to deny the normal rights of property owners.

The city of Victoria has a lengthy zoning by-law which does not contain such sweeping provisions as that proposed for Central Saanich and I am advised that this by-law is about to be amended in certain details but no such sweeping provisions are contemplated. Why should Central Saanich be made a guinea pig for trying out the experiment of placing dangerous powers which may easily be abused in the hands of any municipal council?

I am deeply interested in the well-age daily sunshine was 2.53 compared to the long-term average of 2.40 hours. The relative humidity was 87.6 per cent, 0.7 per cent below the 10-year average.

Frost damage to trees, shrubs and vegetable crops has been heavy. Peaches appear to be the most severely damaged of the fruit trees, while damage estimates of over 50 per cent have been received from growers with commercial holly orchards. Roses, berberis and many other ornamental shrubs have been severely frozen. Of the vine fruits logan and raspberry canes have been damaged, while in vegetable crops Christmas cauliflower and cabbage are completely ruined.

ment returning officer. Chief islands involved are Salt Spring, Galiano, Mayne, North and South Pender and Saturna. These and smaller islands comprise the new Gulf Islands Hospital Improvement District, Number 9. The district is administered by a board of trustees elected from the islands.

The need for a new hospital to replace the 41-year-old Lady Minto has been under discussion for several years, and came to a head recently with the official establishment of the improvement district, with government sanction. Since then plans and estimates have been completed.

ALL MAY VOTE
All registered landowners in the district are entitled to vote December 8. They will be asked to approve a loan of $98,825, which covers the hospital and staff residence fully equipped and ready for operation, plus other items such as landscaping and roadway, water and power services, architects' fees, etc.

The site itself, commanding a fine view of Ganges Harbour, is a gift of Gavin Moutat of Salt Spring Island.

Cramped accommodation and the lack of modern facilities in the present hospital are reasons why hospital authorities have recommended construction of a new building. Addition of new equipment for surgical and medical care over the past years is said to have created extra problems for the working staff.

SEA AMBULANCE
The board of management of the Lady Minto Hospital has offered to subsidize a sea-going ambulance service from the other islands to Salt Spring, if this is required.

Whittaker and Wagg of Victoria are architects for the proposed new building.

The name, Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital, will be retained. W. E. Dipple is administrator and Mrs. N. Degnen, R.N., is matron.

Use of tea was introduced into Europe in 1600 by the Dutch East India Company.

The Review's Book Review

"Winged Canoes at Nootka," by Pamela Stephen. Dent. 227 pp. $3.

This could equally be the story of Nootka to the Stikine. At least that is the sequence through which the short stories within its pages take the reader.

These stories are all based on actual history and each presents a picture of some occurrence within the story of British Columbia's settlement and expansion. They are based on a series of stories F. G. Richards given over the radio by the writer through the sponsorship of the P.T.A. They were later put between the board covers of a book and make for excellent light reading.

The only shortcoming is the brevity of the stories. The author starts off to unfold a new aspect of an old story as she allows herself the license of putting new thoughts into deceased minds. The reader tends to get too interested in the background to appreciate that the story is already over in a few pages.

The winged canoes at Nootka were the first vessels of another world to be seen by the Indians of Vancouver Island. Each little story is the unfolding of an episode in the history of Canada's western province. It is a book of interest to all who collect information on the early history of the province and particularly to the younger reader.

It is also a comprehensive story of the different vessels seen on the

Sidelight

Christmas shopping sidelight, overheard at Pender Island. Several ladies were in Corbett's Store, buying Christmas presents. An old-timer was looking on. Asked, one lady, "And what would you like for Christmas?"

coast from Cook's time to recent days. Depicted are canoes, sailing vessels, warships, tugs and a variety of other ships, including the sternwheeler which takes the reader up the Stikine River.

Following quotation from John Donne's Biathanatos (1644) appears in the current "Now and Then", published by Jonathan Cape. It is as appropriate today as it was 300 years ago.

It is light reading, but still most informative—F.G.R.

"If therefore of Readers, which Gortones observes to be of four sorts (Spunges which attract all without distinguishing: Howreglasses, which receive and powere out as fast; Bagges, which retain only the dregges of the Spices and let the Wine escape; and Sives which retain the best only), I finde some of the last sort, I doubt not but they may bee hereby enlightened.

FIRE HAZARD IS GREATEST AS CHRISTMAS TREES ARE RAISED

Christmas presents a serious fire hazard. With many decorations and the Christmas tree itself in the home extra caution is necessary warns Fire Chief G. A. Gardner, of the Sidney and North Saanich Volunteer Fire Department. His caution is echoed by the chiefs of the various fire departments in this area.

Chief Gardner offers the following warnings. Use a freshly-cut tree and store it in the open preferably with the stem in water prior to bringing it into the house. The tree should be brought in at the latest possible hour and removed as soon as is possible. The drier the tree, the greater the hazard. When the tree is in the house it should be placed in water and the water level checked to ensure that it is always above the cut.

LURE OF WATER

Canada, rich in lakes and rivers, has a water-loving population but there is a high toll of drownings. There are also accidental drownings of small children who get into water-filled excavations or fall through the ice at the river's edge. Many of these drownings could have a happier ending if artificial respiration were applied in time and for a sufficiently long period. There are records of people who have been in the water for half an hour, who have been brought back; others have been saved after more than four hours of working on them, although they were apparently drowned. Artificial respiration should be continued for hours, until a doctor positively certifies death or until rigor mortis set in. Classes in artificial respiration are available in most communities, either through St. John Ambulance Association, Red Cross or the local Civil Defence organization. This knowledge may save a life—it pays to learn.

WEED GROWTH

In this area we usually receive about three-quarters of our annual rainfall between October and March. Even though this period includes our lowest temperatures, many weeds continue to grow vigorously. During most of this period the surface of the soil is wet, and cultivation for the purpose of killing weed is impractical.

Experiments over the past few years have shown that certain weed-killing chemicals, or herbicides as they are usually termed, are very effective when applied in the fall. There are the herbicides which act through the root systems of the weeds, and abundant rains tend to carry the chemical down through the soil until it comes in contact with the roots.

A number of examples may be cited where fall applications are proving very effective. The control of couch grass by trichloroacetic acid (T.C.A.) is a case in point. The only essential here is that the soil be in condition to cultivate the grass in just before the spray application. Assuming this can be done, the fall application appears to give results fully as satisfactory as a spring application.

A further advantage is the fact that the effect of the chemical is gone by the time spring seedlings are made, at which time even grasses, for which T.C.A. is specific, may be safely sown. Other examples of successful fall applications are spraying for the control of weeds in fall planted bulb crops such as daffodils, tulips and iris. Here, chemicals such as C.M.U., I.P.C. and C.I.P.C. are being used successfully, the application being made before the crop has emerged. Again these chemicals are most effective when applied on soil which remains wet for a prolonged period. It is thus apparent that our winter rainfall has its good points as well as bringing its many problems.

STORING SILAGE

Silage has been stored successfully in several different ways on Vancouver Island. Until recently nearly all silage has been stored in upright or tower silos but during the last few years numerous trench and bunker, and some snow fence silos have been constructed.

The type of silo to be constructed depends on several factors. The trench silo is relatively cheap to construct but this silo requires good drainage and cannot always be located conveniently to the feeding area. Trench silos are normally constructed on a side slope or knoll so that good drainage from the bottom of the silo can be obtained.

Above ground bunker silos are not dependent on soil drainage and can usually be located conveniently to the barn or feeding area. This type of silo is adaptable to self feeding when equipped with a concrete floor and aprons. Satisfactory temporary silos can be constructed using snow fencing lined with moisture-proof paper.

The snow fencing will last for three or four years but the paper liner must be renewed each year. Tower silos are relatively expensive to construct but require a minimum amount of space and can be located conveniently with respect to the barn or feeding area.

The satisfactory storage of silage depends on adequate packing when filling the silo regardless of the type of silo being used. Packing assists in excluding air from the silage. Excess air causes heating which results in mouldy silage. Packing in bunker and trench silos is usually performed using a tractor and in upright silos tramping is the method normally used to obtain an adequate pack.

A crowded church attended the wedding. The couple left afterwards to spend a honeymoon in Honolulu.

You can't go ALL-OUT If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "fired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wharmby are spending a few days in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Gordon left on December 1 for San Francisco, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bantly for the next two months.

Mrs. A. Ralph returned on Sunday from a short visit in Victoria.

Walter Kay left on Sunday for Vancouver, where he will be admitted to Shaughnessy hospital.

T. H. McGowan returned on Saturday from a two-week visit on Salt Spring Island.

Art Slater and son, John, were week-end visitors at their Boot Cove cottage.

Harry Ray, of Vancouver, left Sunday after a week's visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kay.

Dr. and Mrs. B. J. Hallows returned Sunday from Vancouver. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson.

The Christmas meeting of the Saturna Women's Service Club was held on Friday, Dec. 2, at the home of Mrs. Walter Warlow. Plans for the annual Christmas dinner and tree were made, and Saturday, Dec. 17, was the chosen date. Mrs. Walter Kay and Mrs. Blake Hunt were the tea hour hostesses.

Keith Grey left on Sunday for a few days in Vancouver.

James Campbell and daughter, Jacques, left for Vancouver on Thursday, Dec. 1. They returned Sunday by air, bringing Nan home from St. Vincent's hospital, where she had been under treatment for severe burns received several weeks ago.

MAYNE

Miss Underhill returned this week after visiting her brother in Shaughnessy hospital, Vancouver.

Mrs. Pratt returned from Vancouver last Thursday.

Mr. Lord and Mr. Morson went to Victoria last week as the Mayne Island delegates to the meeting between Hon. P. A. Gagliardi and the bureau last week.

There was a card party held at the hall under the auspices of the hall committee, on Saturday evening, which was much enjoyed.

Doreen Bennett spent a few days in Vancouver last week with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bennett.

Sturdy at Mayne

J. R. Sturdy of the hospital board, Ganges, spoke to a small audience in the Hope Bay hall, Pender Island, recently, soliciting a "yes" vote in the coming plebiscite on the money by-law for the new hospital at Ganges.

Poor attendance was attributed to lateness in receiving the notice of the meeting, which just arrived the previous afternoon.

After an informative talk on the proposed hospital a question and answer period ensued. Some felt the hospital would not especially benefit Pender Island until a suitable means of conveying sick and injured persons to Ganges was forthcoming. Mr. Sturdy suggested this could be taken up with the board at a later date.

Others felt the project might become a tax burden. All agreed it would be nice for Ganges to have the new hospital, but failed to see where it would increase property values on Pender.

Some felt it would prove a benefit to all the Gulf Islands. Other members of the board who spoke briefly were Wm. Mouat and Mrs. Warren Hastings.

The handsome hand-made comforter was won by Mrs. Max Allen, and the cushion by Mrs. Prior. The time and effort the ladies had put into the saleables, which made the bazaar one of the most attractive they have held, paid off when the monies totalled up in the sum of $212.

NO REMUNERATION!

I am extremely grateful for the support promised me at the polls on Thursday by so many village voters. My platform has been soundly approved. My reasons for refusing to accept any remuneration, if elected to the village commission, are as follows:

1. I promised before to serve without pay. So did some of the present commissioners but they changed their minds.

2. The village today cannot afford the luxury of paying its commissioners.

3. Members of the school board, water board and fire brigade serve without remuneration. Sidney village commissioners should be equally as public spirited.

Your vote on Thursday will elect a public servant who will work in your interests without pay.

Yours truly,
JOE BILGERI.
